Ike Proposes Emergency Aid For Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration today proposed a five-year program of emergency federal aid to public schools and a college construction program designed to provide facilities.

The cost for the programs was estimated at around $3½ billion dollars over the next five years.

The school proposal would authorize federal aid to needy school districts to pay half the cost of bonds and interest incurred to build urgently needed public buildings during the next five years in communities which lack the resources to finance their own classroom needs.

Planning said such a program should provide about 75,000 classrooms in addition to those which would be built outside the federal aid program.

The college and university aid program would be designed in speed construction of up to two billion dollars worth of housing and academic facilities during the next five years.

$400,000 Gem Robbery at Miami Beach

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A thief, perhaps a gem expert, stole a reported $400,000 in diamonds, emeralds and other jewelry from the hotel suite of a vacationing New York auto rental magnate.

The theft Sunday was the biggest in the history of Miami Beach luxury hotels.

The jewelry was owned by Leon C. Greenbaum, chairman of the board of Hertz Car Rental Corp., his wife, and her sister, Mrs. Arthur Cole, also of New York.

Greenbaum told a newsman someone either overlooked or chose not to take some of the gems.

Mrs. Cole interrupted the interview with "I do not want any of this in the newspapers." She and her husband operate Mr. Most, one of New York City's leading dress houses.

Because some of the jewelry was not taken, officers theorized the thief was a professional, knew how to appraise gems and knew what he was after.

The largest piece was a $180,000 ring. The other pieces were mostly diamond and emerald bracelets and necklaces. The jewels were insured.

Mrs. Greenbaum and Mrs. Cole wore the jewelry on an outing Saturday night.

The three spent part of Sunday away from their $100 a day suite in the Americana Hotel. Upon return at 4:30 p. m. to pack for a trip to New York, they found the jewelry missing.

The Act authorizes funds to be held back from any district where schools faced with integration are closed, and transferred to others that are educating the displaced students.

Three other members of the six man board denied having heard of the purge plan.

One of these, Municipal Judge Robert Laster, did say Saturday that he would oppose renewal of J. O. Powell's contract. Laster criticized Powell for appearing on an educational panel last week which was sponsored by the Women's Emergency Committee of Open Our Schools.

After four weeks the lawmakers have tossed 592 bills into the hopper. Twenty-one have passed both houses, another 21 have been withdrawn and 815 more are in committee or on the calendar.

The center of attention is directed at measures to raise money for the state Highway Department and a bill to grant university status to Arkansas State College at Jonesboro. The latter measure, which passed the Senate by a small majority, may come up for action in the House this week.

Sen. J. Lee Bearden of Leachville has introduced bills to boost the state gasoline tax by one cent and the special fuel tax by two cents, and hike automobile license fees by five dollars, to raise highway construction funds.

The Highway Department is bringing the tax proposals and, reportedly, so does Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

An economy bloc in the Senate has stalled passage of a general appropriations bill because it includes several allocations. The bill appropriates money to run the executive, judicial and legislative branches of state government.

"No one group claims credit for this success," Vandiver said, but he added, "The council's goal has been to get others to work harder and more enthusiastically, and to help them work more effectively."

"This has resulted in a new outlook for U. S. cotton—greater confidence, a spirit of mutual industry understanding, a common approach to public relations problems, development of a proven program of research and promotion and the acceptance of the idea of a National Cotton Council."

The governor said the council's specific goal is to help build markets for American cotton that will consume 10 million bales per year at home and 8 million bales abroad.

"This total take-off," Vandiver added, "would mean increased acreage, greater volume and growing prosperity for all."

Services were to be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Saratoga Church of Christ by Husey Hartsell, Norman Grant and W. E. Peoples. Burial by Hammond-Cornelius was to be in Saratoga Cemetery with American Legion Services at the graves.

A. H. Holland, 70, of Saratoga, Dies on Sunday

Arthur H. Holland, aged 70, a resident of Saratoga, died Sunday in a Hope hospital.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Madge Holland, Saratoga, a brother, Jake Holland and a sister, Mrs. Garland Ellis, both of Saratoga.

No Comment on Return of State Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—"No comment" was the reply School Superintendent Terrell Powell had yesterday on a reported offer to return state money to the Little Rock School District if some school personnel were ejected.

The proposal, the Arkansas Gazette said in yesterday's edition, would be to return more than half a million dollars in funds withheld from the district under a school-closing law. It was relayed by Powell to three board members the Gazette said.

One of the members, Ted Lamb, confirmed the report but declined to discuss it further.

Under the reported deal, those to be dismissed included Jess W. Matthews, principal of Central High School and his assistant, J. O. Powell; Mrs. Elizabeth Huckabee, dean of girls at Central; and L. M. Christophe, principal of Horace Mann High, a Negro school, along with as many as 100 high school teachers.

The Gazette said board members were told local segregation groups complied the list.

Supl. Powell would not comment on whether the plan had been advanced or on how the funds would be returned. The funds were withheld under a state law now being challenged before the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Iraq Accused of Exhibiting Bids

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John "Butler" (R-Md.) accused the government of Iraq today of exhibiting the Soviet Union secret American bids on projects in that country. He asked the State Department to make an official protest.

The disclosure, Butler said in a statement, enabled the Soviet Union to cut its own bids by 20 per cent and win 20 choice contracts, including one for a tire factory to compete with a multimillion-dollar American still plant in Iran.

Butler said the American bids were revealed by Iraq's minister of economics, Ibrahim Kubba. He called Kubba "an ardent Marxist," although Butler said Kubba denies membership in the Communist party.

Club Operator Freed of a Murder Charge

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today ordered former Hot Springs night club operator Hiram (Jimmie) Jones freed of a charge of murder.

To try him on the charge now would amount to double jeopardy, the Supreme Court said.

Jones was accused of the fatal shooting of George Stockton, Jr. in the Flamingo Club at Hot Springs April 13, 1957.

Trial of Jones was started in October of 1957 but was halted after two days when Prosecuting Attorney Walter Herbert discovered that a juror was a sister of Jones Campbell, a police witness in the case.

Galand Circuit Court declared a mistrial and later refused Jones' motion to dismiss the charge.

Under the reported deal, those to be dismissed included Jess W. Matthews, principal of Central High School and his assistant, J. O. Powell; Mrs. Elizabeth Huckabee, dean of girls at Central; and L. M. Christophe, principal of Horace Mann High, a Negro school, along with as many as 100 high school teachers.

Official Declares Rural Electrical Financing to End

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Eisenhower administration official said today the day of "bargain basement" financing of the rural power movement by the federal government is coming to an end.

But a spokesman for the electric cooperatives said they will fight any change in the government's loan program and interest rates.

Administrator David A. Hamill of the Rural Electrification Administration said the day will come when the public will ask rural power cooperatives and districts to pay the going rate of interest.

He said the present 2 per cent rate on government loans was a bargain basement rate.

"As pressures on the budget increase," taxpayers may ask all beneficiaries of federal credit programs to stand on their own feet if they possibly can," Hamill added.

The conflicting views were expressed in speeches prepared for the annual meeting of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, opening today and ending Thursday. Speaking for the cooperatives was Clyde T. Ellis, general manager of the association and a former Arkansas congressman.

The government has extended loans of more than three billion dollars to about a thousand cooperatives and other developers of rural power systems.

Referring to proposals by President Eisenhower in budget messages to Congress last year and this to change the financing program, Ellis said:

"The attacks of the Eisenhower administration cannot be ignored. The crowd is hell-bent on handing us over to the Wall Street bankers and the Wall Street controlled power companies, and they're not going to rest until they do it."

The President has proposed that rural power systems turn to private credit sources for financing and that the interest charged on government loans be large enough to cover the cost of the money to the government. Congress took no action on the proposal last year.

Ellis said that the rural systems—because of a lesser density of customers, greater hazards of the elements and other peculiarities of rural power systems as contrasted with city systems—could not survive, let alone expand to meet needs, if they were forced to pay higher rates. He predicted Congress would again do nothing on the Eisenhower proposals.

Hamill on the other hand, said rural cooperatives have gained in financial strength and face bright prospects for the future.

"I think it would be dangerous for you to assume," he said, "that the Rural Electrification Act includes a lifetime guarantee of federal financing."

Ellis proposed several changes in the cooperatives own programs including consolidation of their reserve funds and of public relations programs under the national association.

The reserve funds would be pooled and transferred to a trust company for investments under a policy fixed by the national association. Ellis said this might save the cooperatives a total of 70 to a million dollars a year.

Advertising and public relations functions would be handled by a recognized agency, also through the association.

Chase Ends in Arrest, City Officer Hurt

A chase that started in Hope ended just beyond Shover Springs about 4 a. m. today with two cars, including a City Patrol car, in a ditch.

City Officers Willis and Rothwell arrested John Mill Powell on charges of reckless driving, transporting untaxed liquor and destroying evidence.

The officers spotted Powell on Second street. He fled out Highway 67 and onto No. 4 with police giving chase. The officers said four gallons of liquor were tossed from Powell's car on Second street. The chase ended when the Powell's auto hit a ditch on a delour. The Police car also hit the ditch, causing some damage to the front end. Officer Alvin Willis was thrown into the steering wheel and suffered injuries to his ribs.

Powell was turned over to Federal authorities who also confiscated his automobile.

Man Shoots Wife, Wounds Evangelist

ANDERSON, Ind. (AP) — An Anderson man shot his estranged wife to death and wounded an evangelist riding to work with her today, then drove into an alley and killed himself.

Patrolman Doyle Wright said evangelist James Moyer reported Sam Stigall drove up behind the car of his wife, Eva Mae Stigall, 42, and fired repeatedly into the car.

Moyer said Stigall fired at least two more rifle bullets into his wife after she fell out of the car onto the street.

Moyer said Mrs. Stigall had just stopped to pick him up to give him a ride to the factory where both worked, and Moyer took the wheel. He said Mrs. Stigall fell into the street as he started backing the car to try to escape the rain of bullets.

Moyer, father of four children, suffered a flesh wound in the left ear and drove Mrs. Stigall's car to police headquarters. He was treated in a hospital.

Gibbs O'Steen Wedding Solemnized

The wedding of Miss Mary Gibbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gibbs of Minden, La., to Dwain O'Steen, son of Rev. and Mrs. Elbert O'Steen of Warren, Arkansas, was beautifully solemnized Saturday evening, January 24, in the parlor of the First Baptist Church of Minden.

Rev. O'Steen, father of the groom, performed the double ring ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Kenneth Kerr, of Minden, before a setting of white chrysanthemums and satin against jade fern. Miss Dawana O'Steen, sister of the groom, provided the nuptial music. Escorted to the altar by her father, the lovely bride wore a bridal gown of white chiffon over tulle. The fitted long tucked torso bodice featured a high neck line, enhanced with bows in the back, and the skirt was of ballerina length. She wore white satin shoes, carried out the old tradition of something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue, and a penny in your shoe. She wore a shoulder length illusion veil attached to a pearl crown and carried a cascade of white split carnations.

A. L. Caudle, Jr., uncle of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Charles Liles, Billy Wayne Dixon, and Hampton Bussey. Mrs. Don Stahles, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a v-necked dress of yellow tulle with a matching veil head piece and carried a bouquet of bronz mums.

Mrs. Anna Williams, grandmother of the bride, was dressed in navy blue. Mrs. A. L. Caudle, Sr., grandmother of the groom wore a two piece printed crepe dress. Both gossames were of pink carnations. Mrs. Gibbs, the bride's mother, chose a navy dress with navy and white accessories, and her corsage was of white carnations. Mrs. O'Steen, mother of the groom, chose a mauve crepe brocade in broided sheath dress with black accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations.

The reception was held in the dining hall of the church. The sisters of the bride, Barbara and Betty, served the three tiered wedding cake and punch. Miss Margaret Gibbs was in charge of the guest book. Music during the reception was provided by Miss Pat Sullivan, and Miss Linda Gibbs distributed attractive rice bags to the guests.

For travel the bride chose a black and white wool suit. She pinned at her shoulder a white orchid. Following a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Ruston, La.

Mrs. Herndon Entertained Rose Garden Club. Red carnations decorated the home of Mrs. B. Herndon on February 6, when she and Mrs. Dale Henry entertained the Rose Garden Club. The club received helpful information from guest speaker, Cecil Blittle, on planting and pruning shrubs. He also gave some timely tips on conservation.

A report was heard from the nominating committee, and the group made plans for the forthcoming flower show. A colorful and tasty reminder of the approaching Valentine's Day were the heart-shaped cherry tarts and coffee served by the hostesses.

The honoree's chair was marked with white bows. The hostesses presented her with a white carnation corsage.

The gifts were presented to them by little Miss Cherie Lynn Bradford who was well prepared for the weather as she carried an umbrella to keep the rain off the wagon load of gifts. Both the wagon and the umbrella were beautifully decorated with navy and white.

The color motif of pink and white was carried out on the dining room table. The table, overlaid with a beautiful lace cloth, was centered with a wedding-ring arrangement of white daisies and pink carnations accented with a large pink ring. Placed on each end of the arrangement were crystal candelabras holding pink and white candles. Idea of a Great Sport: Hit a Man When He's Down

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband and I were happily married for three years. Then he had an accident and became unable to work. Before I married him I was engaged to a young man who is now rising rapidly in his profession. I have met him again and he is still interested in me. Should I divorce my husband and marry the man who can support me?

the kind you are. Your rising professional man, certainly will not add to his reputation by marrying a woman who deserts a needy husband — and I doubt if he'd jeopardize his future for you. Since you're interested only in money, try earning some yourself. The woods are not full of animated meal tickets looking for you.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm sure many have this problem and perhaps it can be solved only by the person himself. When I drink fast and furiously I start to hurt my friends' feelings by raising my voice and proclaiming their faults. They know I don't mean anything by it but it always leaves a bad taste. How can this be corrected? — Jonathan.

Dear Johnny: What sort of dissimulation do you expect from me? The solution is simple: stop drinking or your friends will leave you.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm 14 and ever since I was a little girl I have liked dolls. I've always been careful of them and now I have quite a few. I keep them in my room but don't play with them. My parents think I'm too old for such childish pleasures. Do you agree? There's nothing "odd" about me. I'm an 'A' student, have loads of friends and enjoy dates. — Doll Lover.

Dear D. L.: Today's dolls are so attractive and charming that they have been taken up by teenagers and ladies even older. Lots of girls keep their old dolls as souvenirs to adorn dressing tables, beds and odd corners. There's nothing queer about your fondness for dolls, so let them accumulate. They are a dusting problem, however. If you don't do your share in that direction, Mom would be entitled to a gripe.

Stock Market Sharply Lower After Spurt

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was sharply lower late this afternoon as trading quieted following early selling squalls.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3,300,000 shares, compared with 3,100,000 on Friday.

Leading issues were down from fractions to 2 or more points.

American Telephone lost more than 2, Du Pont about 4 and high priced International Business Machines around 5.

Losses of about 2 points or more were also taken by Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Kennecott, Jones & Laughlin, General Electric, Texas Co., Gulf Oil and Merck.

Down a point or so were U.S. Steel, Republic Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Goodrich, Borg-Warner, International Telephone, American Cyanamid, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, Westinghouse Electric, New York Central, Standard Oil (New Jersey), Royal Dutch, Amerasia, Liggett & Myers, American Tobacco and Schering.

Lukens Steel bucked the downward trend with a 2-point jump. Caterpillar and Sears Roebuck made fractional gains.

U.S. government bonds drifted lower.

Accused Slayer Is Considered Sane

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Ted Durand, charged with first degree murder for the slaying of his estranged wife near Mena last month, has been found sane, Supt. Granville Jones of State Hospital said today.

The 31-year-old Durand, sent to the hospital for mental examinations, has been returned to the custody of Polk County authorities. Durand, who operated a bakery at Las Vegas, N. M., followed his 27-year-old wife, Rose, back to Arkansas after she returned to her parents home near Mena.

Officers said that Durand accosted his wife on a highway near Mena Jan. 5 and shot her to death while their five children looked on.

Church Blocked, Pastor Declares

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rev. Wesley Pruden, pastor of the Broadmoor Baptist Church here, says ministers who oppose segregationist views have blocked a petition campaign against location of a new church next to his.

The campaign had been planned for four Baptist churches yesterday and was to have shown opposition to locating the new University Baptist Church directly behind the Broadmoor church.

Two of the ministers at the four churches had indicated they would object to circulation of petitions attacking the proposed church location.

Pruden said of the campaign's failure: "The integration preachers just stopped it."

The Rev. O. C. Robinson Jr., pastor-adviser of the new church, said integration had nothing to do with the situation.

The youths, ranging in age from 14 to 20, were held under $5,000 bond each.

Two of the youths were arrested yesterday after being implicated in the crimes by five others arrested Saturday. Sheriff Rudy Burgess said. The sheriff said all have admitted taking part in the thefts.

Four robberies and two burglaries in the last two weeks were committed, police said.

Kremlin Silent on Plane Incident

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said today that despite Radio Moscow's cry of forgery, the Kremlin has been officially silent on U.S. charges that Soviet jets shot down an unarmed American plane.

Department press chief Lincoln White said the Soviet government has "studiously avoided" telling the Soviet people about the American charges.

White told reporters: "We have had no" — and here White spelled out the word for emphasis — "no official communication from the Soviet government on this subject. We hope we will."

Tournaments Likely to Have Same Old Look

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

With only a few changes here and there, it's beginning to look like the same old faces will be around when the National Collegiate and National Invitation basketball tournaments form their lineups next month.

At the moment, at least 10 of last year's 16 major conference representatives are headed back to the far-flung NCAA championships.

That would be defending national champion Kentucky from the Southeastern Conference, West Virginia from the Southern, Kansas State from the Big Eight, Cincinnati from the Missouri Valley, Dartmouth from the Ivy League, California from the Pacific Coast, Connecticut from the Yankee, Miami of Ohio from the Mid-America, Idaho State from the Rocky Mountain loop and Arizona State U. from the Border Conference.

That number could be up to 11 if Indiana, last year's Big 10 champion, continues the streak run that has closed the Hoosiers within a half game of front-running Michigan State.

As for the NIT, guesses are that perhaps seven of the 12-team field will be repeaters — including St. Bonaventure, Niagara, St. John's, St. Francis (Pa.), Dayton, and Bradley and St. Joseph's (Pa.). If they don't win their conference races, Bradley currently is runner-up to Cincinnati in the Missouri Valley Conference and St. Joseph's heads the informal Middle Atlantic group that has done so well in past tournaments with teams like LaSalle and Temple.

The first five are near the top of the list of candidates for either the NIT field or the "fat large" berths that round out the NCAA's 24-team lineup. Others include Marquette, Oklahoma City, improving Fordham and, for the NIT only, St. Louis and Denver as possible runners up in the Missouri Valley and Skyline Conference races.

Two big names from a year ago — Xavier of Ohio, the defending NIT champion, and NCAA finalist, Seattle — have problems. Xavier hasn't been able to get untracked and Seattle is on NCAA probation.

Probationary action also eliminates unbeaten Auburn, North Carolina State, and Memphis State among the top teams.

Here's a rundown to some conference races:

Ivy League — Dartmouth and Princeton both 7-0.

Southeastern — Ineligible Auburn 6-0 leading, leaving it up to Kentucky 4-1 and Mississippi State 7-1 who meet in Starkville, Miss., tonight.

Atlantic Coast — North Carolina 9-0 leading, N.C. State 10-1, but

LIFE AND LIMB—Nineteen-year-old Donna Anderson takes a bough in Hollywood, Calif., where she's on her way to movie stardom. The Gunnison, Colo., native had planned a dancing career before she was "discovered."

Karam Group Presents a 4-Point Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An interracial committee yesterday unveiled a four-point program — including segregation of boys and girls — to help ease Little Rock's "submission" to school integration.

James T. Karam, a clothier and friend of Gov. Orval E. Faubus, outlined the proposed program after a meeting of about a dozen members of the committee, including one Negro, at his Main Street haberdashery.

The plans four points call for:

conference tournament decides NCAA representative.

Southern Conference—West Virginia 80, with 44 straight top victories, in class by itself. Mounties still must win postseason conference tourney to make NCAA.

Big Eight — Kansas State 7-0 with two-game lead over Colorado 5-2.

Missouri Valley—Cincinnati 8-0 leading Bradley 6-1 and St. Louis 5-1.

Big Ten—Michigan State leads with 6-2, Indiana challenges with 5-2.

Southwest — Texas Christian leads with 7-1, Texas Tech and Baylor each 5-3.

Pacific Coast — California 6-2, with Washington 6-3 and Oregon State 6-4 in running.

Health tests for students and suspension of those having communicable diseases; achievement tests for all students and grade placement based solely on the tests; highest of moral codes; and segregation of male and female students separate school facilities for male and female students.

The program's aim is to make inevitable integration as desirable as possible for Little Rock residents of both races, Karam said. He added the group, which was formed about seven weeks ago, was not accepting integration about "submitting" to its inevitability.

Members of the committee include representatives of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and the Women's Emergency Committee to Open Our Schools as well as members of the Capital Citizens Council and Central High Mothers League, Karam said. The latter two are segregationist organizations.

Karam said the committee felt that "no one has been acting in good faith" in the integration dispute, and the committee seeks to prepare for integration and to get the four closed Little Rock high schools opened as soon as the plan can be put into effect.

The plan is to be submitted to the Little Rock School Board in about 10 days, after further work on it is done.

Hundreds of Negroes and whites were interviewed during formulation of the plan, Karam said.

The Senior boys won 52 to 48 over the Cardinals. Walkins was high man for Hope, with 16 while Smiley tossed in 13. "Clint" was the best scorer for Fairview with 16 points.

The Junior boys dropped a 51 to 48 decision to Fairview's Juniors. David Porterfield made 17 points for Hope and Tommy Roberts 13. However, Fairview's Bush was high point man with 20.

The Bobcats and the Senior girls will meet a couple of Texarkana teams here Tuesday night.

Celtics Get Additional Scoring Ace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tom Heinsohn, the Boston ace with the feather-touch shot, has given the Celtics and additional weapon as they cruise toward another Eastern Division title in the National Basketball Assn.

The former Holy Cross All-American usually takes a back seat to such celebrated Celtic stars as Bob Cousy, Bill Sharman and Bill Russell.

But Heinsohn is a valuable cog in Coach Red Auerbach's well-oiled machine. He proved it over the weekend as he led the Celtics to two victories.

Heinsohn scored 28 points as Boston whipped second-place New York, 124-116. Saturday night and 30 Sunday as the Celtics thumped Cincinnati, 136-117, to move 9 1/2 games in front.

In the meantime, St. Louis lowered its magic number to two by defeating Philadelphia Sunday, 100-93. The Hawks need any combination of two victories or Minneapolis defeats to clinch their third consecutive Western title. The Lakers took over the runner-up spot with a 109-87 victory over Philadelphia Saturday and a 118-103 triumph over Detroit Sunday.

In Sunday's other game, the Syracuse Nationals defeated New York 118-104 for their first victory over the Knicks this season in 10 games.

Heinsohn directed a 48-point spree in the third period against Cincinnati Sunday to overcome a 56-53 halftime deficit. He notched 23 of his 36 points in the quarter, hitting 16 of 18 shots.

Yerger Junior Boys Take Tournament

The Yerger Junior boys trotted off as champions of the 4-County Tournament held at Ashdown Saturday.

In reaching the finals the Tiger Cubs defeated Nashville, Foreman and Washington. In the final game they defeated Clow Training School of Ozan 38-26.

Tiger Cubs Taylor, Barnes and Guiley lead in the scoring department to spark the winning of the tournament. Some good rebound work was turned in by Williams to set up the scoring opportunities.

The Senior Boys 4-County Tournament will be held at Yerger High School Saturday, February 14th.

Matter of Fact
The famous editor Horace Greeley, was a young man, the greatest molder of public opinion of his or any other time. At the age of 19, in 1828, he and two associates founded the New York Morning Post, probably the first two-cent newspaper ever published. Within three weeks, the Morning Post failed. Six years later, Greeley founded the New Yorker, considered to have been the finest newspaper in the U.S. to that time.

Air Force to Make More Wing Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force probably will shrink its organizational size to fewer than 50 wings during the next five or six years—smallest since the whole-sale demobilization following World War II.

These wings will include missile outfits as well as manned aircraft. Part of the cutback will be in B-47 medium bomber wings as more efficient means of delivering destruction replace these planes.

Economy seems to play only a small part in the trend, which began about two years ago. Improvement of both aircraft and missiles accounts primarily for the change.

The nuclear firepower which can be delivered by even 50 wings will be thousands of times that of the huge bomber fleets of World War II.

The military budget now being debated in Congress says that there will be a "modest reduction in the number of wings in the Air Force, from 105 at the end of the current fiscal year (next June 30) to 102 at the end of 1960."

The slow reduction in wing strength started after a peak post-war strength of 137 was reached in mid-1957.

The size of an Air Force wing varies from 45 big bombers to 75 fighters. Normally, a wing consists of three squadrons of planes.

In missiles, the squadron designation is generally used. A ballistic missile squadron will range from 10 weapons for an intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) outfit to 15 for an intermediate range ballistic missile — IRBM — squadron.

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy said last month that the Strategic Air Command will include 14 wings of B-52 heavy jet bombers—two more than had been shown under previously announced plans.

The cutback in wing strength toward an eventual level of fewer than 90 will be brought about, in part, by the gradual elimination of the B-47 medium jet from SAC's fleet of strategic bombers.

Unemployment Climbs Back to Near Peak

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unemployment is climbing back close to the five-million mark, economists reported today. They said a figure approaching that mark may be shown in the government's January count, due out Tuesday.

Joblessness normally rises in the winter months because of the weather's effect on construction, farm and other outdoor activities. The five-million mark has not been exceeded since last April, when the jobless count was 5,120,000.

But in recent months job idleness has been running a little ahead of corresponding months a year ago. In December the total was 4,108,000, or 734,000 more than the 3,374,000 in December 1957.

The figure for January 1958 was 4,494,000, a jump of well over a million from December. If the January 1959 idle total million or so normally registered increases by anything like the million or so normally registered in that month, the total will be close to or over five million—and well over the figure for a year ago.

The figures indicate that while business has improved substantially from its recession depths, the job picture still is gloomy.

This in itself is not too surprising.

Waukesha, One of Last Stern-Wheelers on Red

This is a new plate of a subject originally published in Hope Star's Arkansas Centennial Edition June 26, 1936, with notes from the same edition.

Ernie Deane, the Arkansas Gazette's "Arkansas Traveler," was in Hope the last of January looking for material on Red River stern-wheelers, and came across this picture of the Waukesha in our Centennial Edition. But neither print nor negative was available. Our notation in the Centennial showed that it was a copy by Shipley Studio of a 16x20 print then owned by W. E. Cox Sr., of Fulton.

But Shipley had no record of it, and on telephoning to Fulton The Star learned that the 16x20 original is now owned by E. Harley Cox, Jr., of Pine Bluff, son of the late E. H. Cox, who was a nephew of the late Henry Cox who once won the Waukesha in a poker game. With this information Mr. Deane telephoned the Gazette's correspondent in Pine Bluff and had her borrow the original to let a Pine Bluff studio make two copy negatives, one for the Gazette and the other for The Star.

Mr. Deane's article and picture appeared in the Gazette for Sunday, February 1. Meanwhile we dug further into our Centennial Edition and came up with the following additional notes: The Waukesha was not the last stern-wheeler to operate on Red River at Fulton but she was the last of which a photograph could be had. There were two others operating at a later date; the Eilen and the Kingfisher, both owned by Dan Clark.

Our picture of the Waukesha is dated about 1894. The boat was owned by W. H. McWhorter of Fulton, a famous cotton merchant and planter. He was a native of Wisconsin, and gave the boat the name of a well-known Wisconsin city.

The Waukesha operated for years both as a freighter, taking cotton downstream to New Orleans and bringing back merchandise — and as an excursion ship for holiday crowds from Hempstead and adjoining counties.

Mr. McWhorter also was a famous poker player. And one night while playing in the ship's luxurious bar he lost a plantation, $2,200 in cash — and the Waukesha — to his good friend the late Henry Cox of Fulton.

The Waukesha came to her end when she hit one of Red River's formidable snags and sank.

McWhorter was a beloved character in the old days at Fulton. He had at least two namesakes, the late "Mac" Anderson, brother of Roy Anderson of Hope; and the late "Mac" (Max) Cox of Fulton and Hope — son of the very Henry Cox who beat McWhorter in the poker game.

Wet and Snow Covers Much of the Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Millions of Midwest motorists and pedestrians slipped hopelessly today on ice spread by extensive freezing rains.

Subzero temperatures gripped the Northeast and Northern Plains and the mercury skidded to freezing as wintry weather belted southern California.

The ice slick extended from Kansas and Nebraska to southern Michigan and northern Ohio — along the border between a deep cold air mass and northward pressing warm rain clouds.

Traffic was snarled and footing was treacherous for metropolitan workers in the morning rush hours. Hundreds of accidents were reported, with police switchboards jammed, and hospital emergency rooms taxed by boom business in arm fractures from falls on ice.

For drivers, the problem was to get any headway at all from spinning wheels even on usually trivial inclines, and convulsively to stop for emergencies on "creaky" ice once momentum was maintained.

One expressway accident near Detroit involved 30 cars. A trucker steered his heavy semitrailer rig into a tree deliberately in Atlantic, Iowa, to avoid running down two girls on a sled.

Most crashes were minor, but there were some fatalities. Skids killed at least one person in Iowa and two in Illinois.

In Chicago, slight inclines on the outer drives proved too slickly

He meant it is terrifying to competitors in other countries. Webster, managing director of Bradford Cotton Mills, Sydney, recently returned from a visit to Japan, and said the Japanese had better management techniques than any other country in the world.

Some Japanese factories, he said, went three or four years without losing time because of accidents.

Polite Man Tells Manager of Burglary

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—"Are you Louis Goltz of Pfeifers?" a male telephoner asked Sunday night.

"Yes," Goltz said. "Well, your store was robbed Saturday night," the caller said, and hung up.

Goltz, manager of Pfeifers Men's Store, went to the store. It had been broken into through a window.

Goltz said he was unable to determine immediately if anything had been taken.

Surely no money could have been taken—Goltz said cash was not kept in the store overnight. The safe had lettered across its face:

"This safe is not locked." Below it was written: "It is now."

paused, tipping his head. "Inside," he ordered bluntly. The one leaning against the wall now swung away.

"Mister, who do you think you are?"

"Why," said Yeager bleakly. "I'm the man who prefers your kind in front of me, rather than at my back."

"Well, well," drawled the rider, sarcastic and still stubborn. "A regular fire-eater come to town, eh?"

"Make that two of 'em," friend," said Cam Reeves. Speaking, Cam dropped the shotgun across the crook of his left arm, his right hand playing with the big, winged hammer.
